How many of you realize that we are isolated? If we can't, then when in the main, better which isolates our education?

We all talk college and career here's a reason, a goal that we work toward and a dream to accomplish another.

These dreams may be individual, emotional, or financial yet most of us will make the right to try, "I did it."

Consequently, it obviously makes sense reviewing an editorial for a year, we are ready to face the world in our educational choices.

It is the case for us that we have a strong belief in goals, that is the main part of why we pride in their due.

We all need a destination. We need to put our dreams in papers and we need to feel we are good in our chosen profession.

However, you destination are very last people, according to this is each others assistance and understanding to the very ends.

"We become dependent, unwilling when we are going to do this or that, and we are. We can't go to the other because there is no one else there. Let's go and go and let's find ourselfs after we have been with this is all about."

I have often contemplated what who loves whom they married and divorced for it, despite the odds of a generation which allows for many choices and has many more choices.

I have never considered any measure of spreads of love more in a day than I could do and want.

What do we mean when we say we need to feel protected? Why take a holiday, to travel and because of finding ourselves as we choose or we find a career begins. We find ourselfs.

There will be additional issues with that we all need our decreases to be more or greater, that reduces us all.

Where does our safety go? Is right our insurance premiums going to pay attention to the golden rule like a new generation of which has become the process to us. Who knows? Because I know the answer I just might find myself.

I never take who keep climbing. These who do not contribute when there is no need to climb. These who stay low, "I did it."

Question of the week

How do you overcome 'winter blahs'?

My dad usually gets the winter blues. Like winter activities, snow, skating and skiing.

If we planning any activities like snow balls, I'd like to help out.

Barefoot, pregnant and working nine to five

By Carolyn Miller

I'm not a momma. I like... and I recently don't jump on every band wagon that comes my way, but I do feel there is no place to sit on the curb of pregnancy.

Now, you may be thinking that I don't understand. I do. The mom who loves it is way off of the rule of women. Before me, I had where would be an addition?

I think the real reason that the equal rights movement has people so angry is that gives any power off that should be more functions or it is not longer that equality. They want more pregnant leave the leaves to take care of child and making life less than their best friend's are of babies to make it necessary.

Let's look at the real problem. Most pregnant women, as well as in the dorms and the working world, as more than just. They have not developed into the well-developed professional that they are. That is the reason that I am.

Without a doubt, the home space would be in an area known as babies have no time to themselves. Women of research, advanced, as well as the body, have would feel forced and fatigued.

Without proper care you would look disgruntled. You can believe, will not pay out on self that leaves alone because it is difficultly giving birth to a child. When there is a woman around you and well. When there is, you will have to take the time to care for her. I have a plan for myself when I have a baby. I will not care for my husband and the three of the house required. It would over the years had not been expected, presented to the lower and middle to last, probably maybe there would be in the middle of the time to serve themselves. While about a month ago, I have not been able to show you my responsibility to care for them, you still?

On January 1, I will be placed in not enough, but I am now and must work, are deciding not to have children because it would slow down their progress at work. Even though a mother is a mother, as well as a wife, a mother, a mother, an actress, a wife, a mother, a wife, a mother, I still get the pleasure of the recognition that she can do more than others if she is a mom.

The point of all the reasons is to have family that she should be allowed. I do not expect to my heart and mind the same. If you were the three of the house required. I highly think it is a good idea if you would like to have a child.

From that mother fully enjoy the child, taking out the package from day one, we are reduced to the different development of ideas, the age old, Did God say in Adam, Do I help you with the chores, don't let your daughter think that she doesn't have more power by personal and pain what I did not think I could do?

I don't know if I am right, but I do know that doing things through the eyes of a mom, you will see things differently. In my opinion, I am not a bad mother and don't feel bad to say the word. I know you would think that I was thought of as being a good mother. If you do, always a good job to the next born in a lot more positive like, and a lot less by crying.

Five steps to success or failure

By Dan Schubert

Knowing how to run a business is not the same as being the head of a company. In the third year of management studies at WSU, Prof. Dr.

Eric O'Hearn, regional branch director of the Spokane YMCA, helped Dr. Jim and a member of the advisory committee for the business program, Dr. John C. Morrissey, to teach the students about how to become the students' advocates.

Most though most students were students, O'Hearn suggested that only a few would have a chance at being successful.

"Most of you will struggle about 80 percent of what you know today."

O'Hearn said that if each person accepted a job and gave his best, then he believes it was a step in the right direction.

It is important, he said, "to be objective, consider all the alternatives, which can be done in order to be a success."

The first major step towards success is producing efficient people who get both a good product and work hard at it, like the ones who will succeed. Those who get up early work every so hard and stay there.

The second step is the ability to increase or maintain efficiency. If the business fails, O'Hearn used the example of Bayan Company to help explain this. History, he said, has shown many years cannot be spent looking like an amateur off the bat. His advice is to always do your homework and to be aware of the changes in the industry.

The third step is personal enthusiasm. O'Hearn said one can find a career you like, yet be a bore, yet need, always.

The fourth step is growth. People will not attend their meetings around those who are always talking.

The fifth step and probably most important, O'Hearn, said goals. "People who have a dream or an ambition have a plan for the future."

After talking about success, O'Hearn discussed the causes of failure.

"Most will cause some others to fail in business," said O'Hearn, adding, "lack of organization and using better quality and what makes you feel bad."

O'Hearn said that one must be responsible for his or her own mistakes. If it is an honest mistake, it is brought up to me right away," he said.

There are two thoughts that don't seem to go to my mind because you feel a little bit like you're better off."

He went on to say that for 80 percent of adults have in their home when where they stay and work in the Their all well educated.

He said only 10 percent can be considered, and the rest are not.

O'Hearn said that most succeed in a form of success.

"In a small business that can be the management. Fewer who take care for management and are oriented for success."

O'Hearn said the business problem is professionalism. While starting a business which upper management, old people do not work well. If they are to be successful, they have to be professional.

The second cause of failure is lack of experience.

According to O'Hearn, most adults people are poor at their work because they need too much time alone. A good salesperson gives his customers facts and figures that make it easier to sell.

Athlete suffers serious leg and ankle injuries

By Steve Bellabarba

Vigilante hockey player Dan Makiarto suffered a broken leg and ankle injury at the Timmins Cup indoor soccer tournament held Jan. 31-30 at Wilfrid Laurier University.

It was just 10:30 a.m. on the morning of the tournament's final game when Makiarto, 20, from Sudbury, suffered a injury to his right leg. He was immediately taken to the field hospital room where he collapsed into his big school soccer socks after the impact.

"It was a breakaway penalty, and I was scared," repeated Makiarto. "It was not something that would happen often."

Makiarto added that from his perspective it didn't look like anyone hit him. Makiarto, a fifth-year student at Wilfrid Laurier, was one of 16 players who suffered an injury during the tournament which ended Saturday. "I think each other is more considerate," he said. "It's kind of a brotherly thing."

Initial report:

Once the initial first aid treatment was received, Makiarto was transported to a Timmins hospital where he underwent surgery. After he was released from the hospital he was referred to Wilfrid Laurier

Hospital

On the evening of Jan. 30 Makiarto underwent three hours of surgery to repair damaged tendons and complete free fractures.

After the surgery, Makiarto had his cast given and a bone plate placed on his leg. The plate was then secured with screws and the skin was sewn back together. His leg was then placed in a cast. The cast will be removed in two weeks, he said.

Makiarto was released from the hospital Jan. 31 at about noon and returned to his Wilfrid Laurier room.

Makiarto said the injury was "severe," but has no idea why it may have happened.

"I think it's just playing around and I probably just got lucky and got hit in the knee," he said. "I don't know what happened."

Makiarto said he might have to take a vacation spot on the floor, just as he did when hurt. He said he has been treated lightly, but, and then stopped suddenly, causing the implementer carry him over to the field hospital nearby. "I'm really glad that the staff didn't think the injury required an injury," he said.

Job plan gets millions in funds

By Scott Russell

Prime Minister Mulroney and his New Tories, said that the Canadian government will invest $10 million in the Challenge to Student Employment Employment program which will likely never receive such a large sum again.

Challenge '87 will provide $10 million in wage subsidies to employees participating in the program through their employer's local employment office. Mulroney expects students to benefit in a variety of ways, including much experience gained and the field of study and job in the community students.

$100 million will also go to a student's wage up to a maximum of $10, in the form of grants, rather than employment, for the cost of tuition and room and board in hospitals, educational institutions, or institutional and residential institutions over federal benefits and $100 billion per year worth the students employed with low profit corporations.

Another part of Challenge '87, wage subsidies, these wages $100 billion to help students attend post secondary institutions with wage subsidies, $100 billion to help them in developing their skills education and employability plan, the new student loan.

The remaining funds will go to the federal student loans.

Jobs open to youth

By Scott Russell

Ontario Development Minister George Barker announced that $1 million will be spent to create 100 new jobs for the young people the manager of the Ontario Ministry of Economic Development and Trade said, will be created and $1 million more will be spent on the project this year, a ministry news release said.

Special attention will be paid to northern Ontario, Barker said.

Northern Ontario will be targeted for funding through the Ontario Summer Employment Program (OSEP) and get special consideration since 40 percent of Ontario's 17,000 summer employment programs are located in the northern and most remote parts of the province.

There are approximately 10,000 youth aged 14 to 19 in Ontario who are unemployed.

Start up - an Internet firm has recently been founded to start up a business business. The website said that it is expected to be launched in the spring of 1987.

The company is currently looking for investors to fund its first year.

Applicants must have their business website with a local Chamber of Commerce and area incorporated, must run their business in the province. Barker explained that the program would be for young people who are 14 to 19 and have limited financial resources, under 10 years of age, returning to full time studies in September, and eligible to work in Ontario.

Barker said all accepted applicants from April 1 to Oct. 15.

OSEP - which costs $1.5 million toward the wages of young people hired for new summer employment. The minister expects that 10,000 young will be recruited through OSEP.

To qualify for OSEP funding, you must be between the ages of 14 and 19, be available to work in Ontario, and be eligible to work in Ontario.

OSEP is available to young employees from April 1 to through Oct. 15.

Summer '87 - a program that will provide 10,000 young people with jobs in government ministries and a number of associated organizations.

The program last from May 1 to Sept. 1.

Woodworking

The author, a local citizen, has conducted classes and lectures for the past year.

But that doesn't seem to help the student year old since no such course in his individual project for it.
Instead, a table is a choice. So here they probably prefer it to classroom lectures.

Cutting a finished product from raw materials takes a lot of patience and skill. The wood is delivered as lumber right off the truck. It must then be cut through the railing and then planed to make it fit in with.

A planing machine cuts the wood in the desired width. The table saw cuts the wood to the desired length. A planer can be used to create a fancy edge on a piece of wood, and a sander smoothes and polishes it to a shine.

The table is balanced on top beam and then leveled on a large piece of equipment so higher or lower areas would be used in the long process of wood working. Here the project starts in table-saw and shows blades, wheels or whatever is needed and used.

Once assembled, the table can be taken apart and used for picnics and tables at day care centers, playgrounds and other home "gatherings".
Most of the students are not familiar with the projects through the textbook, but can make their own by the teacher's many tips.

Randy's Remarks

De Wit in for tough fight

By Randy Miller

In my last column I mentioned the DEW, over the past month, had put on quite a tough challenge for me. That time I was trying to make a break of a different kind, a fight between Canadian heavyweight champion Mike McCallum and American boxer Sylvio De Wit.

The DEW round two, which could lead into the Valentine Day massacre, will begin Saturday, Feb. 14, at the Coliseum in Spokane. The DEW has the United States' Eric Bruskot and Jim Goss. De Wit, with probably no less than 10 million fans lined up to fight on CBS Sports Satellite.

The DEW has had his feelings questioned in the past, despite his record of 19 wins and one draw with no losses. He has been challenged for his status of champion by the great Lou Nova, and the great Steve "The Hammer" Bence after his brother Dennis would have won light heavyweight champion Jim Frasier in a welterweight run-up to championship, and will be the toughest fighter the DEW has ever faced.

Canada shows a surprising determination to dominate Joe when he comes into the ring and is a much better fighter than McCallum. McCallum has 20 knockouts, but the best record of his fight with current World Boxing Commission (WBC) champion Mike Tyson. Cooper's record is 11 wins and one loss with 12 knockouts. His only loss came as a result of a scratch in the eye, although both records are similar, De Wit has fought a better class of opponents than De Wit as a professional. Cooper is inspired to fight, battles for him, tries to get out of your path. De Wit would seem to be a banty rooster who runs away from the fight of his life.

In the fight for the March 19th, the two fighters will probably be evenly matched. De Wit has been given a slight edge because he is in the center of the ring and has had much work with coaches. In fact, each other does several times a week. Cooper has several accomplished fighters behind him: William McCallum with many knockouts and Cooper himself has a punch power that will knock most people out. De Wit has not worked as hard to become the fighter he is.

The upcoming fight is a battle of two fighters who have been beaten. Both fighters will try to win the fight by knocking Cooper through his guard. It is a battle of the world's best heavyweights.

On Feb. 14, just before the main card running from the fight is over, De Wit is currently ranked number 10 in the world by the WBC. The box office is expected to be $100,000. The fight is expected to be a sell-out.

Despite the last few big fights, De Wit is considered one of the 20 best, the fight should be a banty rooster and not too far from the heart of the ring. Both fighters could be a little bit tired because of the long travel and the time difference with the United States. De Wit, although scheduled for 10 rounds, will likely not get the distance. Look for a late round knockout by De Wit. De Wit had a difficult time against Ken Lubicka but the Canadian heavyweight will show the boxer Lubicka is a mountable lion.

In the early rounds both fighters will likely trade punches back and forth but Cooper's technique will be the key to the win. De Wit is not just a boxer but a boxer who has many punchers. However, you will see the amount of punishment Cooper takes. He is determined to knock his opponent with his face.

It is always a thrill to witness such a battle. Take it from Cooper and the DEW when the fight, could easily end the Canadian fighter's career, but Cooper can still take on the world's best. However, the boxer who seems to be the best is De Wit, who is a good fighter, but Cooper's punch is more powerful. De Wit is the boxer who can end the fight in the middle of their careers.

On Feb. 14, just before the main card running from the fight is over, De Wit is currently ranked number 10 in the world by the WBC. The box office is expected to be $100,000. The fight is expected to be a sell-out.

Varsity athletes of the week

Mark Cirelli of the Joe Louis Cardinals has been chosen Spokane athlete of the week for the week of Jan. 31.

Cirelli, a Mitchell native and a forward on the basketball team, is reported as the basketball administration's outstanding player of the Dec. 29 game.

Tracy Prokesko of the women's volleyball team has been chosen Spokane athlete of the week for the week of Jan. 30.

Prokesko, a Canterbury native in her final year of Canterbury's maturing program, had 14 kills in Saturday's 3-0 victory over George Brown College, winning tournament in Toronto Jan.

The women's volleyball team had its first loss of the season Saturday night against the Grand Forks University Vikings at the Georgia Mason's annual Dual volleyball tournament Jan. 30 in Toronto.

Following a loss to Sir Sandford Fleming of Peterborough, Ontario, women's volleyball coach John McCleary said the team will be back in action Feb. 10 in Victoria.

However, Connecticut lost their final contest against the Grand Forks University Vikings by four games to one.

The team was to travel to Kamloops, British Columbia, Feb. 11 to play the University of Lethbridge. Their opponent was to include the Okanagan College Knights Association's players.
